THE MARKET

Everyone's trying AI. Almost nobody's running it.

Small businesses aren't behind on AI awareness—they're behind on integration. That's the gap this retreat closes.

THE REALITY

You already know AI matters.

You've watched the demos. Saved the threads. Maybe even paid for a tool or two. But your biggest bottleneck? Still sitting there—costing you time, money, energy, and growth every single week.

COST OF WAITING

The gap is costing you every month.

While most owners experiment with ChatGPT, the ones pulling ahead are wiring AI into ops. Every month without implementation is hours and revenue you don't get back.

THE SHIFT

Not another AI conference.

WHAT IS (TODAY)

- Sit in rows. Take notes. Go home inspired.
- Vendor pitches disguised as education
- Theory without your business context
- No prototype, workflow, or plan in hand
- You're still the bottleneck on Monday

WHAT COULD BE (3 DAYS)

- Working sessions on your actual problem
- Build with AI in the room—not slides about it
- Three guides: implementation, mindset, strategy
- Leave with clarity, direction, and momentum
- 50 operators who become your network

COMMON QUESTIONS

What owners ask before they apply.

"I'm not technical enough."

You don't need to be. Bring a real business problem—we translate AI into practical steps. No engineering background required.

"I don't have time for 3 days."

You don't have time not to. Three focused days beats 12 months of tabs, tools, and false starts. You leave with a plan for Monday.

"Will I actually leave with something?"

Yes—clarity on your bottleneck, an AI solution path, and likely a prototype, workflow, or implementation plan. Not inspiration alone.

"How is this different from a conference?"

Working sessions on your problem, three guides in the room, 50 seats max. We build—not lecture.

50 SEATS ONLY

Intimacy is the product.

We cap attendance so you get real support—not a conference hall. Every application is reviewed personally. The room is curated for the right entrepreneurs and the right problems.

Not everyone gets in

Application required. We optimize for fit and implementation readiness.

Your problem, not ours

Sessions adapt to what's broken in your business—not a generic curriculum.
